

Arnold Clark says “Ben is a lifeline when the road gets tough”

Arnold Clark

Ben has worked in partnership with Arnold Clark for a number of years. The two companies have been working together to offer all-round health and wellbeing advice to the organisation’s employees across the UK.

Arnold Clark has specifically called upon Ben to work with them in delivering awareness and payroll giving presentations across the entire dealership network of over 200 locations in Scotland and England.

With over 60 years of experience, Arnold Clark is Europe’s largest independently owned, family-run car company. Ben offers its support to 130 Service Centres, 40 Accident Repair Centres and 13 Parts Centres nationally.

“We’ve worked with Ben for years. For many, the charity offers a vital lifeline when the road ahead gets tough. What’s remarkable is that Ben is indiscriminate in its willingness to help, offering assistance with everything from financial planning to dementia care.

“The breadth and ambition of Ben’s generosity is inspiring, and what the organisation does for employees and former employees of the motor trade and their loved ones is nothing short of incredible. We’re delighted to support Ben in its efforts, and I warmly endorse the charity as an admirable and essential cause to be part of.”
